A familiar figure will be missing in the lower house of the state legislature in Tallahassee next spring. Uncle Joe Peoples is dead. He died in Moore Haven last week after a heart attack.

Uncle Joe will be missed in his home county of Glades where he was known and respected by everybody. And, when the legislature meets next spring his former colleagues will see a new face in the Glades county seat occupied for so many years by the venerable gentleman from Citrus Center. His booming voice has been missed but his spirit will live on in the legislative halls and over the prairie around his native homestead.

C.P. Sewing Room Is Turning Out Work

Mrs. F. M. Wilson, who is in charge of the Canal Point sewing room, this week praised the work done by Canal Point women in the war effort. Many items have been made by those participating in the work. Some of the work has been done in the sewing room which is open each Thursday at the school building. Much of the work has been done by the Canal Point women in their own homes. More than 50 skirts have been made for the Red Cross division. Over 40 pairs of pants have been made and 12 sweaters knitted. The work turned out by the local women has drawn high praise from Red Cross officials.

"The co-operation on the part of the Canal Point women has been splendid," Mrs. Wilson said.

They Had A War To Win In Those Days

Last week we ran a little article about Lee Raula qualifying for the chief of police race in Pahokee. We mentioned the fact that he and one-half million overseas. He did—and more too. That particular period was spent with the army of occupation in Germany. This week we asked the candidate what he thought of the write-up. He was much pleased and remarked: "You know, we had a war to win before we spent those months in Germany." So, we gathered from that remark that Mr. Raula has spent several months in overseas service.

Pahokee Election Gaining Impetus As Election Nears

Five Seeking City Marshal's Job; Three Out For City Clerk

It won't be long now! A week from next Tuesday tells the tale. And the tale is one which will settle a lot of speculation which has been rife in Pahokee for several weeks—the outcome of the annual city election.

Qualifications since last week's publication of this newspaper brought a total of three candidates in the race for the city clerk's job. Miss Doris Phillips, the first woman to qualify for office this year in Pahokee, has been named into the race Monday and qualified with the city clerk. Frank Roselle is another who is seeking the job now held by City Clerk W. F. Walker, who is a candidate for re-election.

The race for seats on the council seems to be the quietest of the year. There are only four candidates and three places to be filled. L. L. Shirley, Horace Unwin and Lewis Pendergast are the candidates. They are seeking the places made vacant by expiration of the terms of O. B. McClure, R. B. Mackey and J. B. Elliott.

Key races are not offering for re-election and Mr. McClure is a candidate for mayor. The police chief (marshal) race holds the spotlight as it usually does when an election rolls around. Chief Hayward Baxter has four opponents in the race who seek to unseat him from his $200 a month job. Law Raula, J. B. Elliott and Fred J. Simmons are qualified with the city clerk. Mr. Raula has sought the office in past years and will spend the remainder of the time between now and election in an effort to win his support for the office.

The mayor's race has been a hot affair up until today. Mr. McClure is the only candidate who has qualified with the city clerk. The action came as a result of a ruling by J. Tom Watson, state attorney general, that a 1937 legislative act prohibits the use of voting machines are used to keep the books open until May 1. Similar action was taken in Dade county Tuesday.

Registration Books Re-Opened

The county registration books were ordered reopened May 1 by the county commission. The books were closed Saturday when 23,110 persons had registered for the May 8 primary.

Henry L. Lillenthal, county attorney, had earlier advised the commission that a special act of the Legislature, Chapter 1937 would require closing the books on April 18.

Defense Classes For Canal Point

Next Friday night at 8 p. m. a meeting will be held in the Canal Point school building to determine how many people in the Canal Point area want to take the defense school courses. Officials of the Pahokee-Canal Point Defense Council will be present and in case enough people show interest, the courses will be conducted in Canal Point. For the past several weeks the courses have been offered at the Pahokee school and the attendance has been unusually large.

Explain Work To Registrars

John A. Dulany and his successors on the selective service board, George Mead, were at the Pahokee school Wednesday afternoon where they explained the selective service registration to teachers who will be in charge of the new registration next week. Messrs. Mead and Dulany appeared at the Canal Point school Thursday afternoon where they explained the work to the teachers there.

OPENS NEW OFFICE

C. A. BAILLY, Glades real estate operator, has opened a new real estate office in Belle Glade at the corner of Main Street and Avenue A. Mr. Bailly has vacated the office opposite the bank in Belle Glade and will spend all of his time in the Belle Glade office.

Mr. Bailly, a modernistic structure, was completed recently by Contractor Don Hillier and is one of the most beautiful small structures in the Lake Region. Mr. Bailly, who owns a home in his sub-division in Pahokee, has not decided whether he will move his office to the new building immediately or in the near future.

"Dear Mr. Stuckey: I have been apprised that the citizens of your town have drafted you to speak to the farmers. I realize that this is important to your community, and that your citizens are entitled to a service. However, we would appreciate it if they would release you from this honor because we believe you have a great deal more important place to fill on behalf of the vegetable growers of this state by virtue of your chairmanship of the Vegetable Growers Committee of the Florida Farm Bureau Federation."

This appointment of yours has state and local importance. Your citizens will release you from this honor they desire to confer upon you. It will be greatly appreciated if you will accept the position of chairman of the Florida Farm Bureau Federation.

If a proposal laid before the federation and announced his plans. The federation of the United States Sugar Corporation, materializes it is possible that 10 per cent of the synthetic rubber needed for the war effort can be produced in the Everglades section of Florida. Mr. Bittling entertained 150 Floridians at a dinner Tuesday night in Clewiston and announced his plans. He said that sugar cane, sweet potatoes and peanuts would be used to produce the synthetic rubber.

Bittling made no claim that his synthetic rubber could be used for automobile tires. He said, however, that its employment for other uses—balloon fabrics, linings for gasoline tanks and the like—would release other rubber for making tires. The synthetic product can be manufactured for an approximate cost of 25¢ a pound.

The sugar company head said that the synthetic rubber plant he had placed the plan before the War Production Board last week in Washington. If oked by that board, he said production could be under way by next January.

It was estimated that the cost of such a venture would be $75,000,000. The sugar company's head suggested that independent farmers and the sugar company put $25,000,000 and the federal government put in $50,000,000. The contribution of the corporation and farmers would be in the form of land, shipping facilities, drainage operations and seed.

Mr. Bittling estimated that production of 30,000 tons of rubber a year would bring about employment of 20,000 persons around Lake Okechobee.

Mr. Miller states he has not heard what the quota for Pahokee Canal Point has been set at this week, but whether it may be he is confident the people of this community will pitch in and give wholeheartedly all they can spare for this great cause.

Every American wants to help win this war. YOU are a part of it. The United States is one of the vital parts of the American war machine. That machine can win—but only with the right spark there to make it go. The spark is the flame of the free fighting man who knows the folks back home.

Mr. Miller states he has not heard what the quota for Pahokee Canal Point has been set at this week, but whether it may be he is confident the people of this community will pitch in and give wholeheartedly all they can spare for this great cause.

The "Every American Canvasser" in Pahokee and Canal Point this week proved to be a success. According to members of the various groups who made the canvass. The idea of the canvass was to get every person to pledge a certain amount of money to be spent for defense bonds and stamps at regular intervals. All of the pledges were strictly confidential and the groups were more than pleased with the response.

Seven women in Pahokee canvassed the packing houses and finished their work between the hours of 2 o'clock and 10 o'clock. Many pledges were secured which helped to swell the total.

Stuckey Won't Run For Mayor; To Head Vegetable Group

Withdraws At Request Of President Fla. Farm Bureau Federation

L. L. Stuckey yesterday advised this newspaper that he no longer is a candidate for mayor in the forthcoming Pahokee city election. Mr. Stuckey cited a letter from the Florida Farm Bureau Federation in which the president of that organization asked him to forego the race in order that he might serve as chairman of the Vegetable Growers committee.

In commenting upon his withdrawal from the race, Mr. Stuckey said: "I appreciate the interest of those friends who have encouraged my candidacy and, of course, will continue in the future as in the past, to do all in my power for the betterment of Pahokee and community. However, at the request of the president of the Florida Farm Bureau Federation, I am withdrawing from the race."

Mr. Stuckey offered the following excerpt from a letter which he just received from G. L. Fullerton, president, Florida Farm Bureau Federation, as explanation for his withdrawal from the race.

"Dear Mr. Stuckey: I have been apprised that the citizens of your town have drafted you to speak to the farmers. I realize that this is important to your community, and that your citizens are entitled to a service. However, we would appreciate it if they would release you from this honor because we believe you have a great deal more important place to fill on behalf of the vegetable growers of this state by virtue of your chairmanship of the Vegetable Growers Committee of the Florida Farm Bureau Federation."

E. O. Murphy Is In Marshal Race

E. O. Murphy became a candidate for city marshal in Pahokee on Wednesday of this week when he qualified with the city clerk. Mr. Murphy resigned as a member of the Pahokee police department, effective Friday night when the council meets, in order to make the race. He has kept a candidate in past years and has a large circle of friends who will be pleased to know that he has entered the race again. He has had 12 years experience in law enforcement and promises a business-like and efficient administration of the affairs of the police department if the voters of Pahokee, on May 8, confer the honor and responsibility of the office upon him.

Mothers' Group To Be Organized

A War Mothers' organization is to be set up by the defense council under the women's division. At the meeting it was announced this week. All mothers, who have sons in the army, are requested to phone Pahokee at once so that a list of the soldiers may be made. It is the hope of the council that the mothers of soldiers with a man in the service will display a service flag.

Sincerity Marks Hamilton's Speech In Congress Race

Fiery Young Attorney Captures Imagination Of South Floridians

Ed Hamilton, fiery young attorney of West Palm Beach, has captured the imagination of the people in South Florida by his ringing charges that congress and politicians are to blame for American complacency because they have failed to praise the leadership and representation to which the people are entitled. The youth full attorney in an address in Canal Point yesterday afternoon threw a challenge to the people to forget selfishness and petty politics and co-operate in an all-out effort to win the war.

I think you'll agree with me, picked some easy winners on the screen for this past week, so - here we go again.

Sunday and Monday Marlene Dietrich, that gal with the eye-catching legs, and Fred MacMurray, the lad with a lot of personality, assisted by Aline MacMahon, Arline Judge and Baby Corey, are slated on the screen of the Prince Theatre in a giggle and sport comedy, "THE LADY IS WILLING." Sounds catchy, doesn't it?

Well, folks, it is catchy? Marlene is a glamour girl who's got everything - everything she needs - she wants, and usually gets, including Fred MacMurray. The

Or the same bill, as an added attraction, comes "CAVALCADE OF AVIATION," a pic that will give you some idea of what our war eagles are doing. It will give you a patriotic lift that will make you want to get right in there and pitch with those heroes of the sky. I don't reading the press book on this one, and that's all I've got to go on, and it says: "He's a smooth, slick Satan in a top hat, that's what they called this 'Gentleman After Dark,' who was a model father by day and a silt-hatted adventurer by night. This top-hatted thief and his lady-of-course that's Marlene—get along like dynamite and a blowtorch. This model father is a killer—with the ladies—and anyone else who happens to get in his way."

You have as much of the low-down as I can give you, so it's up to you to make up your mind whether you want to take it in. Now on Wednesday and Thursday James Gleason, one of our character actors, with William Tracy and Joe Sawyer, will break every rib in your body when they crash through a funnier show than they have ever produced before. "HAY FOOOT," it's a story about the army and tough times in the toughest city in the whole army—and you can include the marines and the navy. For a laugh-fest that will do you good I recommend, "HAY FOOOT!"

And, to go further, Barbara Stanwyck and Joel McCrea, in a swirl dramatic show of thrills and surprises when they present "GAMBLING LADY." We know that an always be depicted as a girl on a good show, and as for Joel, that boy is plenty good with romance and two fisted adventure. I don't think you'll go wrong on this one.

Friday that tough that a lot of us remember in "What Price Glory" and Edwige Fenech, teamed in a rip-roster, "CALL OUT THE MARINES." We know from past experience when this pair get together one can expect anything to happen. It does, happen, too, with Binnie Barnes and Paul Kelly. It's a swell show when you'll go home talking to yourself and saying, "I'm sure glad I took that one in."

And if this pic isn't rough enough for you, Eddie Albert and Peggy Moran, with a see-weed cast brings out a story of a pug from the squared circle who goes to it all night to battle a gang of mobsters who have framed his end on a murder charge and are getting ready to hijack the black gold. Boy, when things begin to happen, and they begin as soon as the pic gets under way, you'll get all the rough house action, blood circulating thrills that you'll be able to stand in one evening. Saturday brings some favorites to you - favorites from the vine open places, the Three Mesquites in the "TEXAS TERRORS." Of course there are the usual amount of short subjects and the serial to round out a mighty good day for you.

And last I forget, on that Sun-

Sugar Company Increases Holdings

Everglades holdings of the United States Sugar Corporation were expanded recently through the acquisition of an additional 5,300 acres.

These lands in two parcels have three miles of frontage on the St. Lucie Canal between Port Mayaca and Inland. In addition to the two large tracts the acquisition includes necessary rights-of-way to connect said lands with those through the St. Lucie Canal and under option to the United States Sugar Corporation.

"The acquisition of these lands for future plant-site development," said president Clarence R. Bittling, "is one more demonstration of our faith in the Everglades. These lands, taken together with the rights-of-way, will permit the handling of all products north and east of the Hillsborough Canal, on our plantation tracks with our own equipment and will give us access to Eastern Seaboard markets by water transportation through the St. Lucie Canal and the inland waterway; the markets of the Mississippi Valley may also be reached through the St. Lucie Canal. Lake Okechobee, Caloosa hatchery River, Gulf of Mexico and the Mississippi and its tributaries." Our research organization has already demonstrated that we need additional crops, to meet needs formerly supplied by foreign countries, may be successfully produced in South Florida.

"Other additional new crops are now under investigation and new ones for being put and proposed crops are being studied."

"This type of fundamental research by private enterprise will unquestionably result in the benefit of all residents of the Everglades and greatly expand employment and will result with a substantial increase in flow of commerce throughout the state and nation."

"As long as we have the courage, the vision and the ability to push ahead in the development of new crops and new uses for both old and new crops, we will have the Everglades an ever-widening frontier and an ever-widening horizon."

Japs Planned War Back In 1933

MIAMI, April 23 (FNS)—Evidence that the Japanese were planning their war with America as far back as 1933 is indicated in a letter which James M. Carson, Miami attorney, who was touring Japan at the time, wrote to his wife back home.

Remembering it and finding that Mrs. Carson had saved it, the attorney turned it over to the Miami Daily News. The letter shows clearly that Japan was preparing for an all-out war with America and was preparing her people for it with practice black outs of her larger cities.

In his letter dated Aug. 11, 1933, Carson wrote: "The last 48 hours have been most fascinating. In the first place we couldn't land at day, Monday will be seen another hell MARCH OF TIME, which to me is always the apex of the spree."

Well, you got all the dope, because I gave it to you. See you at the movies! Mal.

Yokohama the other night on account of aerial maneuvers over that city and Tokyo. The Japanese army training not only the soldiers but the public for warfare and the idea was to have all lights put out at a given signal. Automobiles had dark cloths over their headlights, street lights and lights in buildings and homes were all extinguished.

"The bombs and anti-aircraft guns and rockets with planes flying all over the place, gave the illusions of war. It is the first time in history such practice has ever been held. It lasted for two nights and on one night I was in Yokohama and the next in Tokyo."

"When the plans were made it was announced that the practice was for protection against the United States. Later the foreign office pretended that the Japanese policy was changed and the police were instructed to arrest anybody who even said the Japanese were trying to prepare a defense against us, because 'America is Japan's best friend.' That is the official policy released by the foreign office and published in the newspapers. You can believe as much or as little of it as you please. Anyway, I am living in the middle of it."

HON. PAT CANNON

That popular name is familiar to most every one in Florida and I wonder how many of you have had the opportunity to meet him and know him personally.

I have had the pleasure and honor of knowing him for the past 17 years, when as a patrolman in Miami he created an unblemished reputation by his honesty, integrity, and strictly and courageously adhering to his duties.

Having an ambitious nature he studied in law school at night in order to advance himself and by hard work he graduated with high honor as a full-fledged lawyer and by his ability to absorb the legal rights, he created a fine practice and gained the confidence of all who knew him.

Having a magnetic personality, his friends persuaded him to enter the race for representative in congress. Having no financial support nor machine backing him, his chances to win the election seemed very slim, but his friends rallied round him and by consistent work elected him to that honorable office, where in the past few years he served his constituents and the State to the best of his ability and established a proud record that no one can deny nor hood and I am certain that if you all could meet him, you would agree with me that he is the right man, in the right place, in congress.

W. A. KEEN

Candidate for Pahokee City Council

I was born and raised in Florida and have lived in Pahokee for more than five years. I own my home here and my store building and other real estate.

Before coming here I have handled many responsible jobs for the counties and city where there were large sums of money to be handled and spent by me. You can check my record and see for yourself if I did not handle the work and the spending of the public money not only to an honor to myself but an honor to those who trusted me. You will find that I have been honest, sober and upright in all my business dealings.

You may ask the bank and all the wholesale grocery and meat businesses how I have handled my business here. They will tell you whether or not I am honest.

I am not running for council for any honor or for what little it pays, but after having a number of years experience handling public business in other places and having my home here and the best interest of Pahokee and the people at heart, if elected I will give my time and use of the best judgment I have for a bigger and better Pahokee.

Your vote and support will be appreciated.

I have no relatives here except my family and wife, have no special favors but will work for the interest of all.

Schools To Open At 9 Each Day

Beginning next Monday morning all schools in the Glades will open each morning at 9:00 o'clock, according to a ruling of the county school board Tuesday and announced by Carmen Salvatore, school board member.

Since war time went into effect schools in the Glades have been opening each morning at 9:30 o'clock because of long transportation hauls necessary to get some students to school. Especially was it necessary during the shorter days of the year to start at 9:30 because of the long distance that students on the south side of the lake had to travel to get to the Pahokee high school. With longer days now, it is believed that the earlier hour will be better for all concerned.

At the meeting Tuesday the board members named teachers for all schools in the county. At a recent meeting the principals were named. In the Glades area the following principals were named a few weeks ago: are: Pahokee, D. D. Caudill; Canal Point, J. H. Cox; Belle Glade, L. W. Bartlett; South Bay, Edwin Johnson.

Other teachers named Tuesday for the coming 1942-43 term are as follows:

Canal Point
Gladys Harrington, W. L. Lence, Martha Michael, Mary L. Zander, Sue Maxwell.

South Bay

Lake Harbor

JUNIOR GROUP ELECTS OFFICERS

A group of juniors, members of George W. Ferguson's Pahokee Methodist Sunday School class, met in business session Sunday and elected officers. John T. Pickett

Candidate for County Commissioner
Glades District

Believing that my professional training and knowledge of public affairs qualify me to serve you efficiently as County Commissioner of the Glades District, I respectfully solicit your vote in the Democratic Primary, May 5.

My Qualifications are:

Twenty years experience as a civil engineer in responsible charge of work. A majority of this time has been spent on the construction of roads, streets and other improvements in the Everglades District of Palm Beach county, while serving in the capacity of engineer or as construction superintendent for the state and county cities.

I am a property owner, married, the father of three children and a veteran of World War I.

At all times co-operate with committees and/or individuals seeking through constructive criticism the betterment of my district and county.

Co-operate with the other commissioners on all worthy causes.

Insist that all county contracts be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder.

Make public all transactions of the board of county commissioners.

Insist that all county affairs within my jurisdiction be conducted with efficiency and economy.

Institute a progressive county road construction program in this district with a view to making access to the state roads as incident not an adventure. In this connection I am of the opinion that the coast has a sufficient number of county roads, to provide for expansion for several years to come—most of which have been constructed within the past few years. I also definitely believe that through work and cooperation with the people of this district that we can convince the people and commissioners of the other districts of this section's value to the county, state and national government, in its production of foodstuff, and its future value and the absolute necessity of county roads if we are to develop to our fullest proportions in assisting our nation in this critical time. This district has outgrown our present system of county roads and it is vital that every effort be exerted to correct this condition.

At all times to remember our obligations to the unfortunate, the sick and the infirm and provide for their comfort at all times.

Be not unmindful that I am a servant of the people.

Your Vote and Support Will Be
Sincerely Appreciated

Bug Powder Is To Be Scarce

CHICAGO, April 23.—The makers of bug powder predicted Saturday night that insects will wage a troublesome spring and summer offensive this year because the chemicals for insect poisons are being used in munitions.

A survey of Chicago insecticide manufacturers revealed:

1. Chemicals most effective in man's licent war against bugs have been called into service on other fronts.

2. Bug powder prices are "up more than 30 per cent, and the available supply is being rationed, below normal, is being rationed. And, finally, even the lowly fly swatter will be at a minimum because its usual materials, rubber or metal, are being used to "slap the Japs."

The survey showed that farmers will be armed with smaller supplies of creosote and arsenic compounds, while housewives and the mosquito control authorities in urban areas will be faced with battling the hordes with expensive substitutes for the old materials and methods.

Farmers, who must protect much-needed crops, are at the head of the priorities list for insecticides. Hospitals are next, and then housewives who face an estimated 7,000 species of insects in all parts of the nation.
